Idaho Wine – Its Time Has Come

Known for its breathtaking wilderness and, perhaps more famously, for its potatoes, Idaho is also home to a fast-growing wine industry and fantastic wines. Nestled between the Rocky Mountains and the Snake River, Idaho wine regions nurture the grapes with a moderate climate, limited precipitation, and a consistent growing season that adds complexity to the grapes. The characteristically cold winters allow vines to go dormant gradually while ridding the plants of bugs and discouraging disease. A combination of cold nights and hot days serves to balance acids and sugars. The limited amount of rainfall allows growers to control water through irrigation.

Idaho is known for growing and producing classic varieties including Syrah, Merlot, Riesling and Chardonnay, along with more adventurous wines such as Tempranillo and Malbec.

SNAKE RIVER VALLEY

SOUTHWESTERN
IDAHO WINE
REGION

The Snake River Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA), approved in April of 2007, encompasses 8,263 square miles with 1,125 acres planted. Overlaying the ancient Lake Idaho, the shoreline creates its natural boundaries. The result is a distinctive grape-growing region whose ancient volcanic sediment has bestowed fertile, well-draining soil that gives growers better control throughout the grape-growing process.

LEWIS- CLARK VALLEY

NORTHERN IDAHO
WINE REGION

The Lewis-Clark Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA), approved in April of 2016, encompasses 479 square miles with 80 vineyard acres currently planted. Lewis-Clark Valley AVA is made up of steep canyons of the Clearwater and mid-Snake Rivers and their tributaries.

EAGLE FOOTHILLS

SOUTHWESTERN
REGION

The Eagle Foothills American Viticultural Area (AVA), approved in November 2015, encompasses 49,815 acres. This sub-AVA of the larger Snake River Valley AVA is the only one located completely within the state of Idaho. Nestled in the foothills north of Eagle, Idaho, the slope and aspect of the Eagle Foothills play an important role in sunlight reception, cold air drainage, frost and wind protection.
